Sono Field House announced its "SFH Athlete of the Session" Recognition Award winners for the Spring I session.

Young athletes who earned honors included Wilton's Evelyn Cathy, field hockey; Darien's Patrick McDonald, football; Darien's Charlie Von State first and second grade boys lacrosse; Sean Fox of Southport, first and second grade boys lacrosse; Norwalk's James "Jimmy" Howe, third and fourth grade boys lacrosse; Nicolas Guzman of Norwalk, fifth and sixth grade boys lacrosse; Lauren Jennings of Darien, girls lacrosse; and Ridgefield's Theo Magill, soccer.

Sono Field House strives to provide positive learning environments and competitive playing opportunities for young athletes. SFH offers year-round quality sports programming where skill development, self confidence, healthy competition and an outstanding curriculum are a true "difference maker" to youth and high school athletes.

The Athlete of the Session award encourages athletes to take their game to the next level. Every class is an opportunity for athletes to better prepare themselves to excel at their respective sport. The winners of their "SFH Athlete of the Session" are athletes whose commitment to improve is exceptional combined with excellent sportsmanship and a "will not quit" attitude and positive work ethic.

For additional information regarding sports programming or special event opportunities, visit its website at www.sonofieldhouse.com or call 203-604-9030.
